Oct 1, 1989

Dear Harold—

Thanks for your letter.

I, too, am very unwell for weeks now. The strain of what I tried to do (and did) is doing a lot of damage.

I sent Robert to Dallas and he had a very successful week there selling a lot of books, and appearing on radio & TV.

I am willing to reprint one of your books if the money can be found. I'm willing to act as the shipper etc, taking care of the books myself.

But some problems have to be sorted out:

1) Is the book on computer disk? I would want a professional job, properly typeset.
2) Which book/books do you want to reprint?
3) How can we market the books?

We have you a lot of addresses of people who bought my book and could offer yours to them.

I would be the publisher, giving you 10% of the retail price of each book sold from book one. You keep 90% of the film rights. (What's your life story worth, Harold?) (!) You keep the copyright.

Best wishes,

Harry